Pennsylvania Commission on Crime and Delinquency 2012-13

Agency Overview:

The Pennsylvania Commission on Crime and Delinquency (PCCD) serves as a catalyst for the prevention and reduction of crime and delinquency within the Commonwealth and assists victims of crime through support for direct services and by alleviating the financial burdens resulting from the commission of a crime. PCCD strives to effect improvements in the criminal and juvenile justice systems by examining problems, proposing solutions and monitoring and evaluating the impact of those solutions. PCCD assists the criminal and juvenile justice systems to function more productively by fostering interagency coordination and cooperation; developing and coordinating policy issues; providing statewide criminal statistical and analytical services; and granting federal and state funds to provide monies for new efforts or to supplement existing efforts in the areas of victim services and intermediate punishment.

The Commission fosters community-based initiatives in the areas of crime prevention and juvenile delinquency prevention, promotes fair treatment of victims and witnesses of crime, supports local efforts to improve the apprehension and prosecution of those that commit crimes, promotes the use of automated data technology to enhance operational effectiveness in local law enforcement agencies and encourages sound practices in monitoring and treatment of offenders in the community.

Advisory groups and planning committees encompassing Commission and non-Commission members provide insight in dealing with specific areas such as services to victims of crime, juvenile justice, public safety, targeted community revitalization and crime prevention, evaluation, senior citizens, offenders with mental health issues, and cross-system issues.

Services to victims of crime are an important responsibility of PCCD under the provisions of Act 1995-27S which transferred administration of the state's Crime Victims' Compensation Fund to the agency. PCCD also administers funding support for victims' services through the federal Victims of Crime Act of 1984, which supports grant programs for victim services through the Crime Victims Act.

PCCD implements the County Intermediate Punishment Act, 42 PA C.S. §9801 et. seq.; the victim/witness services provisions and victims of juvenile offenders provisions of the Crime Victims Act; the Deputy Sheriffs' Education and Training Program under state Act 1984-2 as amended; and the Constables' Education and Training Program under state Act 1994-44.

The significant program areas in which the PCCD operates are as follows:

Policy, Legislative, Program Analyses and Monitoring – PCCD is responsible for providing thorough, accurate and timely analyses of factors causing change in the criminal justice system, including legislation that may impact on the dynamics of the system. PCCD's

Office of Research, Evaluation, and Strategic Policy Development (ORESPD) provides an objective, independent and comprehensive source of policy-relevant data.

Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention –PCCD develops policy recommendations and administers federal and state funds to support programs designed to improve the Commonwealth's juvenile justice system, and to prevent violence (committed by and against children and youth), delinquency, substance abuse, school dropout, and related problem behaviors among children and youth.

Safe Schools Advocate – Pursuant to State Act 2000-91, the advocate provides support services, victim advocacy and monitoring of the school district of first class cities (Philadelphia) under PCCD. Responsible for monitoring data submitted by the School District of Philadelphia to the Department of Education to assure compliance with the Safe Schools Act as well as the Memorandum of Understanding with the Philadelphia Police Department.

Victim Services – PCCD works to help crime victims transcend their trauma by providing funding to victim service agencies that work directly with victims, provide financial help to victims through the Victims Compensation Assistance Program (VCAP), and collaborate with criminal justice and allied professionals that advocate and respond to the needs of victims.

Criminal Justice System Improvements – PCCD advances the criminal justice system by coordinating with all levels of criminal justice agencies in identifying their issues, developing policies and programs and implementing innovative justice improvement solutions that enhance public safety.

Goals and Key Objectives:

The mission of the Pennsylvania Commission on Crime and Delinquency (PCCD) is to enhance the quality and coordination of the criminal and juvenile justice systems, facilitate the delivery of services to victims of crime, and increase the safety of communities. Ultimately, PCCD strives to serve as a criminal and juvenile justice center of excellence.

Authorized by Act 274 of 1978, PCCD exists to bring diverse and talented stakeholders together to coordinate state and local justice policies and programs, help communities improve the administration of justice, and oversee the allocation of federal and state grant monies.

PCCD strives to make improvements in the criminal and juvenile justice systems by examining problems, proposing solutions and monitoring and evaluating the impact of those solutions. PCCD fosters interagency coordination and cooperation by:

- Developing and coordinating policy issues;
- Providing statewide criminal statistical and analytical services; and
- Granting federal and state funds to provide seed monies for new or existing efforts.

Listed below are the key agency objectives and priorities that were areas of focus during the fiscal year 2012-13. This is not an exhaustive list of PCCD's objectives for this period but a subset that received priority consideration.

Key Agency Objectives:

1. Key Agency Objective: Increase the efficiency and efficacy of local planning efforts through interagency planning and collaboration.

Status: There are 65 counties with operational Criminal Justice Advisory Boards (CJAB's) which meet on either a monthly or quarterly basis to address county and local issues and needs. During this period five county strategic planning sessions were facilitated assisting counties to initiate a strategic plan. Seventy-five percent of counties have increased both efficiency and efficacy through the collaborative planning efforts of the CJAB. This is evidenced by 50 of 67 counties having adopted formal CJAB strategic plans.

Additionally, PCCD has provided support to local delinquency prevention planning efforts through the provision of technical assistance to the Communities that Care (CTC) collaboratives in addition to the ongoing support for the Pennsylvania Youth Survey (PAYS) which provides valuable data to communities as they look to analyze their local issues.

2. Key Agency Objective: Reduce the number of justice-involved individuals with mental illness.

Status: PCCD forged a partnership with the Department of Public Welfare (DPW) that provides funding for the PA Mental Health and Justice Center of Excellence (CoE) The CoE provides opportunities for counties to receive technical assistance and Cross-System Mapping training. Additionally, funding was made available for housing initiatives for justice-involved individuals with mental illness and specialty courts (Mental Health and Veterans) for the target population.

3. Key Agency Objective: Increase the support services provided to those that have been a victim of violence within the school district of Philadelphia.

Status: In 2012-2013, the OSSA saw growth and improvement as a resource for the Philadelphia school district victim community. They were utilized as a reference and provided support tools for schools, parents and law enforcement. The office was able to utilize the observations it has made to suggest and provide support for evidence-based prevention strategies designed to reduce victimization and promote a safer school environment.

4. Key Agency Objective: Increase the use of innovative programs, promising approaches, and evidence-based programs and practices in order to reduce crime and victimization.

Status: The Juvenile Justice System continually seeks to improve the quality of services it provides to youth and their families. Over the last several years, the juvenile justice system partners have engaged in an initiative that focuses on implementing evidence-based practices at all steps within the system with a goal of improving youth competencies and reducing the likelihood that a youth will reoffend. Over the last year, 28 counties received funding to implement various programs and trainings that supported this initiative.

Technical assistance for those implementing evidence-based delinquency prevention programming targeting juveniles is provided through the Resource Center for Evidence-Based Prevention and Intervention programs which is a collaborative effort of PCCD and DPW and housed at Penn State University in State College, Pennsylvania. Assistance provided includes data collection, fidelity monitoring, sustainability planning, and networking.

During FY 2012, a total of 2,627 youth participated in an evidence-based substance use/abuse prevention program. Of those youth, 61% improved in their knowledge of the negative consequences of alcohol, tobacco, and other drug use.

5. Key Agency Objective: Improve the accuracy and reliability of state and local criminal justice data through the automated exchange of information data quality initiatives.

Status: The percentage of electronic prints is meeting targeted projections due to a Federal Bureau of Investigation change in policy. One of the biggest challenges remaining to further increase the percentage of electronic submissions, is the availability of Livescan and booking center equipment in less densely populated areas. It can be a challenge for smaller law enforcement agencies, in these areas, to take an officer 'off the street' to transport a suspect to a booking center or equipment location. PCCD has been working on improving the percentage of fingerprints captured by law enforcement since 2006. At the onset of the project the fingerprint capture rate was reported at 66 percent. The current capture rate is 95 percent.

6. Key Agency Objective: Improve the quality of service available to victims of crime.

Priority 1: Continue to employ methods to reduce the administrative burden on victim service programs.

Status: PCCD implemented the Efforts to Outcome (ETO) software case management system to aid victim service programs in achieving administrative efficiencies by automating and streamlining data collection.

Priority 2: Continue to identify opportunities to improve the efficiency of the Victim's Compensation Assistance Program.

Status: By leveraging new technologies, PCCD has improved the system of processing victim compensation claims.

Funding Programs:

Administration of federal and state funding programs continue to be a significant responsibility of the agency. In 2012-13, PCCD awarded 777 grants totaling approximately $81,000,000. Listed below are the various funding streams that are administered by PCCD to include the revenue or award history, the intended purpose of the funds and the number of grants awarded in 2012.

Statewide Automated Victim Information and Notification (SAVIN) – PCCD was awarded Federal assistance from the U.S. Department of Justice to manage the implementation of a Statewide Automated Victim Information and Notification (SAVIN) program for the Commonwealth's local correctional facilities. Pennsylvania's Crime Victims Act ensures the victim's right to be informed of, among other things, the release or escape from custody of an offender and the release of an offender to a work release program or any other type of post arrest release. Such information is vital not only to victims, but to members of the law enforcement community as well as the community-at-large. SAVIN has the potential to provide valuable information including, but not limited to: notifications of arrests, releases, transfers, and escapes. An automated system such as SAVIN also links agencies, reduces redundant efforts among agencies, and offers a wide degree of local program control. SAVIN offers the Commonwealth an approach that saves time, human resources, and money for the criminal justice and victims services systems while providing a significant compliance tool for ensuring victims' rights.

Examples of specific objectives include: improve local CTC prevention board functioning; establish a community-based process that will ensure stable long-term funding for community prevention programs; and institutionalize the CTC process with fidelity to the model as a decision-making process. Applications are funded through local units of government and private non-profit community-based agencies.

State Appropriations:

Violence Prevention Programs – The overall purpose of this state appropriation is to support the proliferation of high quality and effective juvenile justice and delinquency prevention programs that are cost-effective and produce positive outcomes for youth, families and communities. These funds also supported community mobilization efforts through the Communities That Care (CTC) risk-focused prevention planning process, the Resource Center for Evidence-Based Prevention and Intervention Program and Practices and other priorities as identified by the PCCD’s Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Committee. Funding is provided to private non-profit community-based agencies/organizations and units of local government. These programs, on average, yield a $5 dollar return for every dollar invested. Examples of the types of outcomes achieved through the utilization of these types of programs include improved academic performance, improved school attendance, decreased anti-social behaviors, improved social skills and improved family relations. For the period of July 1, 2012 to June 30 2013, 6,097 children were provided services as a result of this funding.

Intermediate Punishment Program (Combination of IP D&A RIP and IP in 2011) – The County Intermediate Punishment Act, 42 Pa. C.S. §9801 et. seq., provides for various intermediate punishment program options for non-violent offenders. Eligible offenders are placed in intermediate punishment programs in lieu of incarceration. Counties must submit intermediate punishment plans to PCCD in order to receive funding and they must agree to comply with minimum program standards. The number of jail days saved through the utilization of intermediate punishment programs projects was a significant cost-saving measure for the Commonwealth. Ongoing research on the Drug and Alcohol Restrictive Intermediate Punishment participants has demonstrated a significant reduction in recidivism and that only 12.4% of participants recidivate within the first year of successfully completing the program.

The goal of these programs are to reduce confinement costs by providing alternatives to incarceration and secure placement for low-risk offenders and by enhancing opportunities for offenders to successfully reintegrate into society.

During 2012-13 the average numbers of jail days saved by having an individual participate in an Intermediate Punishment program was 85.

In 2012-13 the average number of jail days saved for each participant in a Drug and Alcohol Intermediate Punishment Program was 120.
