

2021 Criminal Justice Advisory Board Conference
The Changing Face of Criminal Justice
Virtual Conference
April 20-22, 2021

Credits and Certificates of Attendance:

Important Notes about Applying for Credits:

- Attendees who requested Social Work and Judicial Education Credits on their conference registration form will receive an e-mail with the appropriate form to apply for applicable credits (additional credit information is listed below).
- Attendance was tracked for each session, utilizing Zoom login names and e-mail addresses, and will be distributed to credit providers upon request.
- As in prior years, sending in the form, reporting attendance of individual sessions, and paying any associated fees is the responsibility of the attendee.
- Please note that credits are only available for live sessions and cannot be applied to the recorded/pre-recorded sessions.

Available Credits:

- Social Work Credits: The National Association of Social Workers (NASW) pre-approved up to 11.5 Continuing Education Units for Social Workers, based upon session attendance. To receive all 11.5 credits, you must attend each full day.
- Judicial Education Credits:
The Pennsylvania Continuing Judicial Education Board of Judges approved the following sessions for credits:
 - April 20, 2021 Sessions:
 - Self-Care Isn't Selfish: 1.5 substantive CJE credit hours;
 - There is More to Evidence Based Practice than Curricula and CBT: 1.5 substantive CJE credit hours;
 - Trauma, Gender and Community Supervisor of Justice-Involved Women: 1.5 substantive CJE credit hours;
 - April 21, 2021 Session:
 - Community MH 101: 1.5 substantive CJE credit hours;
 - Drug Treatment for Criminal Justice Populations: 1.5 substantive CJE credit hours.
- Continuing Legal Education Credits: Unfortunately, we are unable to provide attorney Continuing Legal Education this year due to the provider accreditation rules for distance learning. We hope to be able to continue providing these credits when we resume our in-person conference on April 12th & 13th of 2022.
